

ABSTRACT

[0071] The present invention discloses compositions and methods useful for treating wasting, especially a loss of muscle mass. The present invention also discloses compositions and methods useful for treating lipodystrophy. The compositions and methods of the present invention are particularly beneficial to HIV-infected individuals.